- Who will pack and unpack my bike?

It will be packed by professional mechanics so it can fit in the plane for transfer to Rodrigues. Once in Rodrigues, it will be unpacked and put back together by the same mechanics. After the race, the same will apply for the transfer back to Mauritius.

- Can I do the packing and unpacking of my bike?

Some riders prefer doing the packing by themselves. It is ok, but you need to have a proper experience of packing a bike for travel purpose: remove the wheels & drop the pressure, remove the handlebar, remove the seat post, and pack in a container that will correctly protect your bike without forgetting any gas cartridges attached. You will still need to drop off your packed bike on the instructed date and place.

- What if I decide to simply bring my bike as an extra luggage when travelling?

As you are probably already aware, the planes flying to Rodrigues are small and carry very little cargo. It is therefore difficult and rather exceptional to succeed in bringing over a big luggage. Most probably your bike would remain in Mauritius waiting for an empty plane while you reach the race without equipment.
